

The telephone consumer protection act is very effective and should not be changed or modified.